How do I place an order?

- BHHSURG Resilience Hubs:
  - https://health.hawaii.gov/bhhsurg/how-you-can-help/ (general info)
  - https://hawaiidphs.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_dmnpsSdcbl8UJq5 (order form)
  - If you are using the Resilience Hubs to obtain PPE, please do NOT place an order through HIEMA, as this will result in duplicate requests
- HIEMA PPE website: https://hawaii-medical-alliance.myshopify.com/
  - Register online (will need DOH/DHS/PVL license number, GET or EIN)
  - HIEMA will confirm if you are Qualified Recipient
  - HIEMA will send you a login/password for the ordering site
  - Submit your PPE order
  - HIEMA will begin direct shipping approximately mid/late October - early November, pending arrival of PPE supplies

What types of PPE are available?

- Depends on the type of services your organization provides and whether you have contact with COVID-19 positive patients.
- Non-health care entities who do not have a COVID-19 patient will generally have access to the following types of PPE:
  - Surgical masks
  - Fabric masks
  - Indirect safety goggles
  - Face shields
  - Non-medical gloves
  - Disinfectant Spray and Wipes
  - Hand Sanitizer

Additional FAQs:

- When will supplies arrive at my organization?
  - HIEMA anticipates shipping orders in late-Oct to early Nov, pending arrival of supplies.
- How much PPE can I order at one time?
  - Maximum for one order is a 90-day supply. HIEMA is comparing orders to average utilization and COVID-19 exposure to make sure there is enough for everyone.
- How will orders be delivered?
  - PPE will be shipped directly to your location. If you have multiple sites, please have them each put in a separate order so that supplies will be shipped directly.
- Can I order more than once?
  - Yes, you can order as many times as necessary. Supplies will be distributed through the end of December 2020.
- What if it says out of stock?
  - HIEMA will restock, so let them know and then you can order it.

When should I submit an order?

Please register on https://hawaii-medical-alliance.myshopify.com/ and submit orders as soon as possible!

IR-2020-111, June 3, 2020

WASHINGTON — With 159 million Economic Impact Payments processed, the Internal Revenue Service reminds many low-income Americans who don't usually file tax returns to register for a payment by October 15.

Millions of low-income people and others who aren't required to file a tax return may be eligible for an Economic Impact Payment and can easily register for a payment by using the free Non-Filers tool, available only on IRS.gov.

"IRS employees worked around the clock to deliver the Economic Impact Payments and new tools to help taxpayers in record time," said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. "Even with these unprecedented steps, there remain people eligible for these payments who need to take action. Registering to receive the payments is easy, and millions of non-filers have already taken this step. We urge everyone to share this information widely to help more people receive these payments."

In the past two months, more than 159 million Americans have received Economic Impact Payments totaling almost $267 billion. Of the payments, 120 million were sent to Americans by direct deposit, 35 million by check and 4 million payments were made in the form of a pre-paid debit card. This includes payments sent to those who usually do not have to file a tax return but receive retirement, survivor or disability benefits under various programs administered by the Social Security Administration as well as the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Railroad Retirement Board who qualify. These individuals can use Get My Payment to check on their payment status.

Non-Filers tool on IRS.gov helps millions; special feature remains available through October 15

To help people who aren't normally required to file a tax return, the IRS created the Non-Filers tool, available in English and Spanish, in partnership with the Free File Alliance. The Non-Filers tool is designed for people with incomes typically below $24,400 for married couples, and $12,200 for singles. This includes couples and individuals who are homeless. People can qualify, even if they do not have earned income or work. Usually, married couples qualify to receive a $2,400 payment while others normally qualify to get $1,200. People with qualifying children under 17 can get up to an additional $500 for each child. Anyone who already filed either a 2018 or 2019 return does not qualify to use this tool.

The Non-Filers tool will remain available through the summer and fall, though many eligible people without a filing obligation have already received an Economic Impact Payment. The IRS urges every other eligible non-filer to register soon to quickly receive their payment. Anyone who registers by October 15 will receive their payment by the end of the year.

To help reach these non-filers, over the next few months the IRS will be conducting an extensive outreach and education effort to partner groups who serve homeless individuals, underserved communities, limited English households and others. As part of this effort, the agency has created an Economic Impact Payment partner page, and materials are available in multiple languages.

The IRS cautions that some people who need to file a tax return have been mistakenly using the Non-Filers tool to try to get an Economic Impact Payment.

If you don't usually file a tax return, submit your information here to get the Economic Impact Payment

If you receive veterans disability compensation, a pension, or survivor benefits from the Department of Veterans Affairs, or your income level does not require you to file a tax return, then you need to submit information to the IRS to receive an Economic Impact Payment.

Complete this free online form so that the IRS can identify you and your dependents, and receive valid direct deposit and address information about you. This information allows the IRS to calculate your eligibility and send you the Economic Impact Payment.

Do NOT continue here if:

- You have already filed a 2019 federal income tax return.
- Your 2019 gross income exceeded $12,200 ($24,400 for a married couple) or other reasons require you to file a 2019 federal tax return.
- You were married at the end of 2019 and are not submitting information here with your spouse.
- You were not a U.S. citizen, permanent resident or qualifying resident alien in 2019.

TIAH Grants

Summer-Fall 2020 – Grant Applications Now Being Accepted

The Interfaith Alliance Hawai'i (TIAH) awards grants to organizations that want to enhance their spiritual and activist work with communities. We offer matching grants from $250.00 to $500.00 each to support projects consistent with TIAH's mission and values as a faith-based voice for justice and healing.

TIAH remains open to creative and productive use of the funds for doing "good works" in the community. We encourage proposals that will meet the economic and human impacts COVID19 has had on our community. In your application please indicate how your organization's project addresses needs such needs as food security, housing, care of our keiki, and other needs related to the health and welfare of our people.

Grants are offered on a revolving basis until the annual budgeted funds are expended. The deadline for submitting an application is thirty (30) days prior to the regular board meetings of TIAH held on the third Friday of January, March, May, August, October, and December.

The funds will be awarded to those selected for grants within seven (7) days after notification.

 Deadline: Completed applications received electronically, or postmarked if mailed, after 12 midnight of the due date will not be considered.*
