A. REGARDING THE RELATION OF THE PROPOSAL TO THE STATE HEALTH SERVICES AND FACILITIES PLAN

Chapter 2 – Long Term Care Bed Thresholds

12. The applicant states that "The target population for the 49 SNF/ICF beds is for residents 65 years and older requiring assistance with activities of daily living, behavior management, health related services, skilled nursing and rehabilitation services."
13. The applicant states that "...there were only 22 nursing home beds per 1,000 residents 65 years and above in Hawaii with a national average of 46 beds per 1,000 residents 65 years and above with Hawaii ranking 48th in the nation with the number of nursing facility beds available for residents."
14. The applicant states that "Honolulu is distinctively even more deficient in the number of nursing home beds at 19 beds per 1,000 residents 65 years and above."
15. The applicant states that "Per SMS Research, in 2000 there were 1,197,309 people living in Hawaii of which 13.6% (162,834) were 65 years of age and older; 17,983 of them were 85 years of age or older. By the year 2020, the number of people over 65 years old is expected to increase 200% (325,668)."
16. The applicant states that "SMS also reported that there was a high concentration of these seniors living in the Honolulu Area (Nuuanu to the Niu Valley area). This area has 24% of the total Oahu population with 37% of the population age 65 and above and with 47% of the adult population age 85 and above."
17. The applicant states that based on U.S. utilization rates there is a need for 9,042 long term care beds statewide and 6,217 beds in Honolulu.
18. The applicant states that the 2006 statewide supply of long term care beds was 3,940 while Honolulu's 2006 supply was 2,518 beds.
19. The applicant states that "In 2010, based on US rates (46.1 beds per 1,000 population 65 years or older), there was a shortfall of 5,102 beds in Hawaii and 3,699 beds in Honolulu. With the same US rates, in 2015 Hawaii will be short 6,143 beds and Honolulu will be short 4,153 beds."

Chapter 3 – Statewide Health Coordinating Council Priorities

20. The applicant states that "The addition of the proposed facility at the 1723 Kalakaua site will promote and support the long-term viability of the State of Hawaii's health care delivery system by:

- Providing seniors access to a continuum of long-term care services, especially the much needed SNF/ICF beds. Services will include SNF/ICF care, hospice care, memory care, assisted living, and independent living and rehabilitation services.
- Continuum Care Retirement Communities are a growing trend in the aging field. People want to have access to a variety of services to meet their changing health needs. The SNF/ICF beds are an integral part of Kalakaua Garden's overall health care service delivery system.
- Providing training to the healthcare workforce to care for Hawaii's seniors.
- Increasing the number of long-term care beds in Hawaii and specifically Honolulu which has the highest population of seniors over the age of 65."

21. The applicant states that "Kalakaua Garden will be expanding the health care workforce by employing 81 employees to meet the needs of the SNF/ICF residents."

22. The applicant states that "Kalakaua Garden is a project that meets the regional and statewide continuum of care by meeting the SNF/ICF needs of residents who do not require hospital care. The project also increases the capacity and access to available long-term care beds within a continuum of care campus. This project will also facilitate the transfer of patients from acute care hospitals."

23. The applicant states that "The additional 49 beds will ensure an increased capacity for long-term care services within a continuum of care campus. The campus will also assist in filling the gap between hospitals and the community."

Chapter 3 – Subarea Health Planning Council Priorities

24. The applicant states that "The project will also meet the 'Honolulu (HONSAC) Priority' by increasing the availability of long-term care services and other supportive services such as nursing homes, assisted living facilities, memory care, skilled nursing facilities and hospice services."

25. The applicant states that "The facility will have various programs to maintain the health and wellness of its seniors. Programs such as nutritional and exercise classes, physical training, rehabilitation services, and excursions will be offered."

26. The applicant states that "Kalakaua Garden will be a training site for students in various health care schools of training, colleges and universities, as a way to recruit qualified health care workers."

27. The applicant states that "Kalakaua Garden will provide care in a cost effective manner and will keep costs down. Charges for services will be based on the community norm. Every effort will be made to keep the residents safe and healthy and to treat any change in resident condition in a timely manner to avoid costly hospital stays."

28. The Agency finds that this criterion has been met.
