

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR ALL CERTIFICATION EXAMS FOR 2015

 Key note regarding written and computer-based exams!:

Almost all candidates are choosing to take the computer-based exams now, which have been offered for several years, and the International Credentialing and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC) is soon phasing out ALL written exams. The computer-based exam testing is available on all islands, you schedule your own exam when you are ready to take it, they are exactly the same exams as the written ones, there are no registration deadlines to meet, and you know the results immediately. A candidate can choose to take the computer-based exam when they have completed the requirements to test, and they are available all year round. The cost for the computer-based exam is $115.
