COURSE DESCRIPTION

This training program deals with the process control in an activated sludge system. As a plant operator, you know that the success of the treatment system is measured by the quality of the effluent. So, your main concern is to make sure that your effluent meets your regulatory agencies requirement. In many cases the required values for the biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) and suspended solids (SS) are less than 30 mg/l and that for the chemical oxygen demand (COD) is less than 100 mg/l. To maintain these levels and, thus have effective operation, you must maintain an adequate number of microorganisms; maintain good settling properties; supply adequate air to the aeration tank; and remove sludge from the clarifier before septic conditions or denitrification problems occur. Other objectives include identifying the components of aeration and clarification methods; describing the purpose, operation, and maintenance requirements of major components; use checklists to start-up, shut down and troubleshoot a system; and demonstrating knowledge of F/M ratio, respiration rate, and the mean cell retention time for analyzing plant data. Advance activated mathematic problems will also be covered. Day three of the class is a half-day activated sludge plant tour.
