CHILD CARE/EDUCATION
EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT
EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT	Child care subsidy: Child Care Connection Hawaii	DHS	Helps low-income families to sustain their employment, educational efforts and job training by paying a subsidy for their children who are in the care of DHS-approved child care providers. Families must meet income and activity requirements to qualify for this subsidy program (except when child care is required for protective purposes).	Child: Under 13 years, or between 13 to 18 years if the child cannot do self-care and resides with their parent(s) or caretakers.  Parents or Caretakers must be employed, attending school, or participating in a job-training program.  Income limits by family size.	Subsidies vary based on family income, family size, type and cost of child care, and hours of caretaker's work activity. Subsidy may not cover the full cost, so families may need to pay part of cost. 	Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Insurance (SSI)	DHS	DHS Disability Determination Branch makes Social Security Disability determinations for Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits.  SSDI and SSI programs provide assistance to people with disabilities. Both programs are administered by the Social Security Administration (SSA).	Only individuals who have a disability and meet medical criteria may qualify for benefits under either SSDI or SSI.  SSDI pays benefits to individuals who are "insured," meaning that they worked long enough and paid Social Security taxes.  SSI pays benefits based on financial need. A child, if younger than age 18, can qualify if they have a medical condition(s) that meets SSA definition of disability for children, and if his/her income and resources fall within the eligibility limits.
