

Protect your baby from pertussis. Get vaccinated.

- Pertussis (whooping cough) is a deadly disease that threatens your infant.
- Family and friends may spread the disease to your baby and not know it.
- Your infant needs protection but is too young to be vaccinated.
- Make sure everyone who visits your baby has had their pertussis shot.

For more information, talk to your doctor, visit <http://hawaii.gov/health/Immunization/index.html>, or call 2-1-1.