

PERTUSSIS: WHAT IS COCOONING?

Cocooning is a strategy that can be used to protect infants and other vulnerable individuals from pertussis by immunizing those in close contact with them.

