March 26, 2020

Office of the Governor:

Today is the first day of the governor's order that all arrivals to Hawai'i undergo, mandatory, 14-day-long self-quarantine. This applies to all visitors and returning Hawai'i residents. Initial reports indicate that incoming airport traffic was light, as expected, and that the process on this first day of the mandatory order, for the most part, went smoothly.

Office of the Lt. Governor:

Lt. Governor Green is the State Liaison for Healthcare Response. He spent the past three weeks speaking with the healthcare community and visiting facilities, including five major hospitals statewide. Approximately 200 providers participate in each call weekly in partnership with the Healthcare Association of Hawai'i. Lt. Gov. Green also meets twice weekly with healthcare representatives as part of the COVID-19 Healthcare Task Force. Current concerns from the healthcare community are personal protective equipment (PPE) and ventilator shortages and ensuring everyone in Hawai'i heeds stay-at-home and work-from-home orders and the 14-day self-quarantine orders. Lt. Gov. Green is working with Dir. Hara, healthcare providers and the Healthcare Association of Hawai'i to streamline supply ordering and hospital/healthcare occupancy reporting.

There are 106 presumptive or positive cases to date, with the vast majority being Hawai'i residents (86) and 15 non-Hawai'i residents.

Department of Transportation:

On the first day of mandatory self-quarantine for arrivals, DOT reports very light traffic at State airports. Some planes are arriving with fewer than 10 passengers. Some flights had no passengers or only one. Hawai'i Tourism Authority staff are assisting DOT in collecting, processing and scanning traveler forms. Hotels are being alerted before visitors arrive. The majority of the passengers so far are either returning Hawai'i residents or catching connecting flights to the mainland.
