DOH guidance for a Safe Halloween

Although Halloween traditions in Hawai'i may look different this year, there are still many ways families can have fun while avoiding the scare of being exposed to or spreading the virus.

DOH is recommending celebrating with your household members at home and avoiding traditional door-to-door trick or treating where treats are handed to children or children take candy from a shared bucket. These are high-risk activities as they can result in close contact and crowding among people outside your household.

"It's more important than ever to put safety first," said Health Director Dr. Elizabeth Char. "Gatherings on Memorial Day, July 4th and Labor Day led to spikes in positive cases in Hawai'i. This Halloween, be extra mindful as you navigate how to safely celebrate in order to keep the spread of coronavirus as low as possible during this holiday."
