Department of Health issues voluntary recall warning for KinderFarms, LLC's KinderMed Pain & Fever products due to acetaminophen instability

HONOLULU – The Hawai'i State Department of Health (DOH) Food and Drug Branch (FDB) is alerting residents to a voluntary recall by KinderFarms, LLC for KinderMed Infants' Pain & Fever and KinderMed Kids' Pain & Fever OTC medication products because of acetaminophen instability. These products were sold nationwide, including Hawai'i, from drug/pharmacy retailers, supermarkets, direct online sales, and online through major e-commerce sites.

Acetaminophen is a common active ingredient in many pain-relieving medicines. As a result of the potential health risk with acetaminophen being outside of specification, the product may cause acute adverse health effects, including abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting, and/or jaundice at higher doses. To date, there have been no reports of serious adverse events associated with this recall.
