Estimated Number of Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (IDD) in Hawaii

The estimated number of individuals with IDD in Hawai'i is calculated using the population estimate and the prevalence of IDD. According to the U.S. Census Bureau for July 1, 2017, the estimated population for Hawai'i was 1,427,538. Based on the National Health Interview Survey in 1994 and 1995, the prevalence of IDD is 1.49 percent. (Larson SA, Lakin KC, Anderson L, Kwak N. Lee JH, Anderson D, 2001)

For Hawai'i the estimated number of persons with IDD is 21,270.

Developmental Disability

Public Law 106-402 – Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000. (A) IN GENERAL.—the term “developmental disability” means a severe, chronic disability of an individual that—

- (i) is attributable to a mental or physical impairment or combination of mental and physical impairments;
- (ii) is manifested before the individual attains age 22;
- (iii) is likely to continue indefinitely;
- (iv) results in substantial functional limitations in 3 or more of the following areas of major life activity: (I) Self-care. (II) Receptive and expressive language. (III) Learning. (IV) Mobility. (V) Self-direction. (VI) Capacity for independent living. (VII) Economic self-sufficiency; and
- (v) reflects the individual's need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary, or generic services, and assistance for a life time.

Hawaii State Council on Developmental Disabilities

Mission Statement

The mission of the Council is to support people with intellectual and developmental disabilities to control their own destiny and determine the quality of life they desire.

Vision Statement

People with intellectual and developmental disabilities are treated equal to all persons and enjoy fundamental human rights, among them life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. They have choices about where they live, work, play, and pursue their spiritual beliefs, and they receive the supports they need to do so.

Implementation Statement

To this end, the Council will:

- Work for self-determination and equal access under the law.
- Advocate for systems change and social justice.
- Provide information, education, and planning.
- Serve as conscience/monitor of the State.
- Promote and model best practices.

Social Media

The Center on Disability Studies created the Council's new webpage <http://hiddcouncil.org/>

Self-Advocacy Network

The State Legislature, through Act 213, Session Laws of Hawaii 2007, appropriated funds to establish and support a statewide self-advocacy network for persons with developmental disabilities (DD). The Hawaii Self-Advocacy Advisory Council (SAAC) is a group of self-advocate leaders with intellectual and developmental disabilities who are actively engaged in their community to address the concerns and needs of their peers throughout the State. SAAC activities include:

- Establishing leadership skills and activities to maintain SAAC as a non-profit organization.
- Connecting to local communities to provide education, training, and community service.
- Producing field tested advocacy tools, publications, webinars, and videos.
- Participating on task forces, committees, and boards on every island.
- Securing guest speakers and trainers to address topics, such as civic engagement, employment, healthy living, housing, leadership, personal rights, and self-determination.
- Networking nationally and internationally with self-advocacy organizations.
- Providing education and training to youth in transition.
- Establishing activities and opportunities for self-advocates to have their own businesses such as; becoming emergency preparedness trainers for Feeling Safe Being Safe.

The Council Areas of Emphasis

Community Supports

- Enhancing residential placements within communities by avoiding the placement of individuals with developmental disabilities into institutions.
- Creating surveys to find out what residential options are working best for adults with developmental disabilities and what is needed.
- Continue to work with County transportation coordinators statewide to assure bus routes are meeting the needs of individuals with developmental disabilities so they can utilize generic services to access their community.
- Promoted collaboration with agencies to provide civic engagement training for individuals with developmental disabilities and their supporters.
- Educated Legislators, City and County Council members, and Mayors about transportation and housing needs of individuals with disabilities.

Public Awareness, Education and Training

- Created public awareness campaign to promote Developmental Disabilities and Disability Employment Awareness month.
- Educated business and community members about what Developmental Disabilities are.
- Although HB538 did not pass through the 2018 legislative session, a work group was still convened and the intake process for Developmental Disabilities Division was addressed and a report was completed.
- Promoted awareness of Developmental Disabilities related issues and concerns with legislators during the 2018 Day at the Capitol Event. Participants were briefed from the Council. There were 462 Self-Advocates from 31 organizations and 43 volunteers from 12 organizations who came together to celebrate the abilities of individuals with Developmental Disabilities.
- Supported the Disability Communication Access Board with hosting Emergency Roundtable events with FEMA in every county. Educating 200 residents in Hawaii on being prepared for a natural disaster and what to do after one.
- Encouraged Self-advocates to support initiatives that were important to their communities such as improving bus stop shelters.
- Created web sites for the Council and SAAC. Current agendas, minutes, and calendars have been posted.

Transition and Employment

- Collaborated with public and private agencies to create activities to support students and young adults with disabilities with getting a job and earning competitive wages; such as supporting reversed job fairs for over 50 individuals which resulted in getting jobs for five individuals.
- Assisted four self-advocates with becoming Department of Health volunteers.
- Continue to support the Project SEARCH initiative by bringing the planning of the project to Kauai.
- Created and updated a one-page fact sheet related to wrap around services between the Department of Health, DHS Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, and Department of Education to promote transition planning starting at the age of 14. Facilitated with our sister agencies; Center on Disability Studies and Hawaii Disability Rights Center, a quarterly transition meetings with over 100 professionals from the mentioned agencies, breaking down silos and promoting collaborating among each other.
- Collaborating with the State of Tennessee to assist the State of Hawaii with opening their ABLE (Achieving a Better Life Experience) accounts.

Children & Youth & Health

- Worked to initiate universal screening tools across the State to increase early intervention strategies. Early detection and treatment can prevent long term disabilities.
- Worked with the Assistive Technology Resource Center to provide devices to toddlers to help with their communication needs rather than purchasing expensive communication devices through Medicaid or other insurance carriers.
- Educating legislatures and community members on the need to improve of oral health for children.

Self-Advocacy & Self-Determination

- Maintaining over 200 members statewide.
- Continuing monthly meetings and train-the-trainer events; All about My Empowerment
- Supporting self-advocates to join community groups and boards, promoting “Nothing About Me Without Me.”

History

State Councils were established in response to the Federal Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act of 1970 (PL 91-517). Hawaii's Council was established in State Law by Act 198, Session Laws of Hawaii in 1975. The Council is administratively attached to the Department of Health. The Department serves as the Designated State Agency, providing fiduciary and administrative support. Although the Council operates in the state government, their federal law stipulates a non-interference law that allows the Council to maintain its autonomy, distinct independent role and responsibility.
