PREPARED BY:

STATE OF HAWAII

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

December 2020

Mission Statement

The mission of the Council is to empower, advocate, and support Individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities statewide to control their own destiny and determine the quality of life they desire.

Vision Statement

Individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities are equal to all persons and enjoy basic human rights, among them life, freedom, and the pursuit of happiness. They have choices about where they live, work, learn, play, pursue their spiritual beliefs, are respected and receive the supports they need.

Implementation Statement

To this end, the Council will:

- work for self-determination;
- advocate for systems change;
- provide information, education, and planning;
- serve as conscience/monitor of the State; and
- promote best practices.

Council Staff

FROM THE CHAIR...Deborah Kobayakawa

Aloha!

Looking back at January 2020 I had no idea I'd be elected as your new Chair during my first year on the DD Council. It's an honor to serve with all of you on the Council especially during these unprecedented times. COVID-19 has become a global pandemic impacting the lives of everyone in our state. In particular individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities have had drastic changes with the closing of the programs and activities that are so important to them. Now more than ever we need to empower, advocate, and support individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities so they can safely navigate in a post-Covid world. It's going to take a lot of work for our individuals with ID/DD to return to the activities and programs they enjoy. It's my hope that as your Chair, we can work together with all of our statewide stakeholders to create a "new normal" that ensures a quality of life that our individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities desire to have.

The Council supported the Self-Advocacy Network in becoming a non-profit organization

The State Legislature, through Act 213, Session Laws of Hawaii 2007, appropriated funds to establish and support a statewide self-advocacy network for persons with developmental disabilities (DD). The Hawaii Self-Advocacy Advisory Council (SAAC) is a group of self-advocate leaders with intellectual and developmental disabilities who are actively engaged in their community to address the concerns and needs of their peers throughout the State.

THE COUNCIL...

State Councils were established in response to the federal Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act of 1970 (PL 91-517). Hawai‘i’s Council was established in State Law by Act 198, Session Laws of Hawai‘i, in 1975.

The Council is administratively attached to the Department of Health (DOH). The department serves as the designated state agency, providing fiduciary and administrative support.

The Council engages in activities which change the system of services for people with developmental disabilities and conducts systems change, capacity building, and advocacy activities that...

- Provide training for individuals with developmental disabilities and their families including legislative advocacy, training on the legislative process, and leadership development;
- Demonstrate new approaches to services, supports, and assistance;
- Inform federal, state, and local policymakers;
- Foster interagency collaboration and coordination;
- Eliminate barriers and enhancing the design and redesign of systems;
- Develop and support coalitions;
- Educate the public; and
- Coordinate and support community activities that follow the Council’s mission.

The Council, appointed by the Governor, is a group of individuals dedicated to improving the lives of Hawai‘i’s citizens with developmental disabilities. The philosophy of membership is that all key stakeholders are represented at the Council table: individuals with developmental disabilities; their family members, advocates; representatives of state and private agencies who provide services; representatives of the Hawai‘i Disability Rights Center (HDRC), the state’s Protection and Advocacy agency; University of Hawai‘i’s Center on Disability Studies (CDS) and other key community interests. The beauty of this composition is in the skills and experience that each brings to the table and shares with other Council members.

DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY

[from PL 106-402, Sec. 102. Definitions, (8)]

(A) IN GENERAL. — The term “developmental disability” means a severe, chronic disability of an individual that—

(i) is attributable to a mental or physical impairment or combination of mental and physical impairments;

(ii) is manifested before the individual attains age 22;

(iii) is likely to continue indefinitely;

(iv) results in substantial functional limitations in 3 or more of the following areas of major life activity:

(I) Self-care.

(II) Receptive and expressive language.

(III) Learning.

(IV) Mobility.

(V) Self-direction.

(VI) Capacity for independent living.

(VII) Economic self-sufficiency; and

(v) reflects the individual’s need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary, or generic services, individualized supports, or other forms of assistance that are of lifelong or extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated.

(B) INFANTS AND YOUNG

CHILDREN. —An individual from birth to age 9, inclusive, who has a substantial developmental delay or specific congenital or acquired condition, may be considered to have a developmental disability without meeting 3 or more of the criteria described in clauses (i) through (v) of subparagraph (A) if the individual, without services and supports, has a high probability of meeting those criteria later in life.

The Council Areas of Emphasis

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS

- Enhancing residential placements within communities by avoiding the placement of individuals with developmental disabilities into institutions.
- Promoted collaboration with parent groups to identify residential needs throughout the state.
