 - Discuss problem statement:
 - i. Increased awareness and public pressure regarding packaging waste has led to businesses implementing some source reduction methods to reduce packaged waste. Plastic packaging is cost-effective and generally preferred for fast-moving consumer goods which generates a significant amount of waste. Packaging waste generation has also significantly increased as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic (i.e., take-out instead of dine-in). As consumer behavior shifts globally (i.e., preference for online shopping due to convenience versus in-store shopping), this will further contribute to the packaging problem unless properly addressed.
