

GENERAL INFORMATION & INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLICANTS CERTIFIED CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADDICTIONS PROFESSIONAL

1. The credential of Certified Criminal Justice Addictions Professional (CCJP) fulfills two purposes. First, and most important, the public has a means by which to identify individuals who have met the minimum requirements as set forth in Hawaii Administrative Rules 11-177.1. Second, individuals are recognized for the time, education, and experience they have accumulated in the profession of alcohol and drug counseling with criminal justice clientele. Certification is meant to recognize a substance abuse counselor's accomplishments and competence in providing alcohol and drug counseling within the criminal justice system, and not as an entry-level credential.
2. Prerequisite: high school diploma or equivalent.
3. Criteria for Certified Criminal Justice Addictions Professional:
 - Live or work 51% of the time in Hawaii or be a member of the Armed Forces stationed in Hawaii or the Pacific region.
 - Experience: 6000 hours of supervised work experience specific to the domains of
 - Dynamics of addiction and criminal behavior;
 - Legal, ethical and professional responsibility;
 - Criminal justice system and processes;
 - Clinical evaluation: screening and assessment;
 - Treatment planning
 - Case management, monitoring and participant supervision;
 - Counseling
 - Documentation

An associate's degree in behavioral science may substitute for 1000 hours; a bachelor's degree in behavioral science or Certified Substance Abuse Counselor (CSAC) credential may substitute for 2000 hours; a master's degree in behavioral science or Certified Clinical Supervisor (CCS) credential may substitute for 4000 hours. Work experience must have been obtained within the 10 years prior to application.

 - 200 hours of supervision specific to the domains listed above with a minimum of 10 hours of supervision in each domain. An associate's degree in behavioral science may substitute for 50 hours; a bachelor's degree in behavioral science or Certified Substance Abuse Counselor (CSAC) credential may substitute for 100 hours; a master's degree in behavioral science or Certified Clinical Supervisor (CCS) credential may substitute for 120 hours.
 - 270 hours of education specific to the domains listed above including 6 hours in criminal justice ethics. 270 hours specific to the domains with a high school diploma; 200 hours with an associate's degree in behavioral science; 150 hours with a bachelor's degree in behavioral science or a Certified Substance Abuse Counselor (CSAC) credential; 100 hours with a master's degree in behavioral science or Certified Clinical Supervisor (CCS) credential.
 - Agree to abide by the Certified Substance Abuse Counselor (CSAC) Code of Ethics included in the General Application Packet and found in HAR 11-177.1, Subchapter 3.
 - Successful completion of the IC&RC Criminal Justice Addictions Professional Exam.
4. The following information must be received by ADAD before an applicant is eligible to apply for the CCJP examination:
 - A completed application for criminal justice addictions professional certification. This must be mailed in FIRST with your payment to open a file!
 - Documentation (official transcripts or copies of certificates of completion) of 270 hours, or of the reduced hours with degrees, of ADAD-approved education specific to the criminal justice domains above, including 6 hours in criminal justice ethics.
 - Documentation on the "Work Experience Verification Record" of 6,000 hours of supervised work experience in the above domains with applicable substitutes, including 200 hours of supervision (by someone with a CSAC or CCJP credential)

Certified Substance Abuse Counselor (CSAC)

Code of Ethics

(Adopted from the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Counselors - Revised 5/20/95)

Principle 1: Non-Discrimination

The substance abuse counselor shall not discriminate against clients or professionals based on race, religion, age, gender, disability, national ancestry, sexual orientation or economic condition.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall avoid bringing personal or professional issues into the counseling relationship. Through an awareness of the impact of stereotyping and discrimination, the counselor guards the individual rights and personal dignity of clients.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall be knowledgeable about disabling conditions, demonstrate empathy and personal emotional comfort in interactions with clients with disabilities, and make available physical, sensory and cognitive accommodations that allow clients with disabilities to receive services.

Principle 2: Responsibility

The substance abuse counselor shall espouse objectivity and integrity, and maintain the highest standards in the services the counselor offers.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall maintain respect for institutional policies and management functions of the agencies and institutions within which the services are being performed, but will take initiative toward improving such policies when it will better serve the interest of the client.
- b. The substance abuse counselor, as educator, has a primary obligation to help others acquire knowledge and skills in dealing with the disease of alcoholism and drug abuse.
- c. The substance abuse counselor who supervises others accepts the obligation to facilitate further professional development of these individuals by providing accurate and current information, timely evaluations and constructive consultation.
- d. The substance abuse counselor who is aware of unethical conduct or of unprofessional modes of practice shall report such inappropriate behavior to the appropriate authority.

Principle 3: Competence

The substance abuse counselor shall recognize that the profession is founded on national standards of competency which promote the best interests of society, of the client, of the counselor and of the profession as a whole. The substance abuse counselor shall recognize the need for ongoing education as a component of professional competency.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall recognize boundaries and limitations of the counselor's competencies and not offer services or use techniques outside of these professional competencies.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and shall be willing to seek appropriate treatment for oneself or for a colleague. The counselor shall support peer assistance programs in this respect.

Principle 4: Legal and Moral Standards

The substance abuse counselor shall uphold the legal and accepted moral codes which pertain to professional conduct.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall be fully cognizant of all federal laws and laws of the counselor's respective state governing the practice of alcoholism and drug abuse counseling.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall not claim either directly or by implication, professional qualifications/affiliations that the counselor does not possess.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall ensure that products or services associated with or provided by the counselor by means of teaching, demonstration, publications or other types of media meet the ethical standards of this code.

Principle 5: Public Statements

The substance abuse counselor shall honestly respect the limits of present knowledge in public statements concerning alcoholism and drug abuse.

- a. The substance abuse counselor, in making statements to clients, other professionals, and the general public shall state as fact only those matters which have been empirically validated as fact. All other opinions, speculations, and conjecture concerning the nature of alcoholism and drug abuse, its natural history, its treatment or any other matters which touch on the subject of alcoholism and drug abuse shall be represented as less than scientifically validated
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall acknowledge and accurately report the substantiation and support for statements made concerning the nature of alcoholism and drug abuse, its natural history, and its treatment. Such acknowledgment should extend to the source of the information and reliability of the method by which it was derived.

Principle 6: Publication Credit

The substance abuse counselor shall assign credit to all who have contributed to the published material and for the work upon which the publication is based

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall recognize joint authorship and major contributions of a professional nature made by one or more persons to a common project. The author who has made the principal contribution to a publication must be identified as first author.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall acknowledge in footnotes or in an introductory statement minor contributions of a professional nature, extensive clerical or similar assistance and other minor contributions.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall in no way violate the copyright of anyone by reproducing material in any form whatsoever, except in those ways which are allowed under the copyright laws. This involves direct violation of copyright as well as the passive assent to the violation of copyright by others.

Principle 7: Client Welfare

The substance abuse counselor shall promote the protection of the public health, safety and welfare and the best interest of the client as a primary guide in determining the conduct of all substance abuse counselors.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall disclose the counselor's code of ethics, professional loyalties and responsibilities to all clients.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall terminate a counseling or consulting relationship when it is reasonably clear to the counselor that the client is not benefiting from the relationship.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall hold the welfare of the client paramount when making any decisions or recommendations concerning referral, treatment procedures or termination of treatment.
- d. The substance abuse counselor shall not use or encourage a client's participation in any demonstration, research or other non-treatment activities when such participation would have potential harmful consequences for the client or when the client is not fully informed. (See Principle 9)
- e. The substance abuse counselor shall take care to provide services in an environment that will ensure the privacy and safety of the client at all times and ensure the appropriateness of service delivery.

Principle 8: Confidentiality

The substance abuse counselor working in the best interest of the client shall embrace, as a primary obligation, the duty of protecting client's rights under confidentiality and shall not disclose confidential information acquired in teaching, practice or investigation without appropriately executed consent.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall provide the client his/her rights regarding confidentiality, in writing, as part of informing the client in any areas likely to affect the client's confidentiality. This includes the recording of the clinical interview, the use of material for insurance purposes, the use of material for training or observation by another party.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall make appropriate provisions for the maintenance of confidentiality and the ultimate disposition of confidential records. The counselor shall ensure that data obtained, including any form of electronic communication, are secured by the available security methodology. Data shall be limited to information that is necessary and appropriate to the services being provided and be accessible only to appropriate personnel.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall adhere to all federal and state laws regarding confidentiality and the counselor's responsibility to report clinical information in specific circumstances to the appropriate authorities.
- d. The substance abuse counselor shall discuss the information obtained in clinical, consulting, or observational relationships only in the appropriate settings for professional purposes that are in the client's best interest. Written and oral reports must present only data germane and pursuant to the purpose of evaluation, diagnosis, progress, and compliance. Every effort shall be made to avoid undue invasion of privacy.

- e. The substance abuse counselor shall use clinical and other material in teaching and/or writing only when there is no identifying information used about the parties involved.

Principle 9: Client Relationships

It is the responsibility of the substance abuse counselor to safeguard the integrity of the counseling relationship and to ensure that the client has reasonable access to effective treatment. The substance abuse counselor shall provide the client and/or guardian with accurate and complete information regarding the extent of the potential professional relationship.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall inform the client and obtain the client's agreement in areas likely to affect the client's participation including the recording of an interview, the use of interview material for training purposes, and/or observation of an interview by another person.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall not engage in professional relationships or commitments with family members, friends, close associates, or others whose welfare might be jeopardized by such a dual relationship.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall not exploit relationships with current or former clients for personal gain, including social or business relationships.
- d. The substance abuse counselor shall not under any circumstances engage in sexual behavior with current or former clients.
- e. The substance abuse counselor shall not accept as clients anyone with whom they have engaged in sexual behavior.

Principle 10: Interprofessional Relationships

The substance abuse counselor shall treat colleagues with respect, courtesy, fairness, and good faith and shall afford the same to other professionals.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall refrain from offering professional services to a client in counseling with another professional except with the knowledge of the other professional or after the termination of the client's relationship with the other professional.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall cooperate with duly constituted professional ethics committees and promptly supply necessary information unless constrained by the demands of confidentiality.
- c. The substance abuse counselor shall not in any way exploit relationships with supervisees, employees, students, research participants or volunteers.

Principle 11: Remuneration

The substance abuse counselor shall establish financial arrangements in professional practice and in accord with the professional standards that safeguard the best interests of the client first, and then of the counselor, the agency, and the profession.

- a. The substance abuse counselor shall inform the client of all financial policies. In circumstances where an agency dictates explicit provisions with its staff for private consultations, clients shall be made fully aware of these policies.
- b. The substance abuse counselor shall consider the ability of a client to meet the financial cost in establishing rates for professional services.

- c. The substance abuse counselor shall not engage in fee splitting. The member shall not send or receive any commission or rebate or any other form of remuneration for referral of clients for professional services.
- d. The substance abuse counselor, in the practice of counseling, shall not at any time use one's relationship with clients for personal gain or for the profit of an agency or any commercial enterprise of any kind.
- e. The substance abuse counselor shall not accept a private fee for professional work with a person who is entitled to such services through an institution or agency unless the client is informed of such services and still requests private services.

Principle 12: Societal Obligations

The substance abuse counselor shall to the best of his or her ability actively engage the legislative processes, educational institutions, and the general public to change public policy and legislation to make possible opportunities and choice of service for all human beings of any ethnic or social background whose lives are impaired by alcoholism and drug abuse.
