SUBJECT: TRB 2019-2021 Contracts Clinical and Fiscal Summary Report

Aloha,

Attached you will find a summary report of the 2019-2021 Substance Use Disorder (SUD) Contracts clinical monitoring overview along with a fiscal summary report of our 31 contracted treatment providers.

In the clinical monitoring overview, Dr. Yurow compiled a list of common themes that he observed throughout the 31 contracted providers in the past two-year contract period.

The fiscal summary report provides a breakdown of TRB's total budget of State and Federal funds that were awarded, total of funds allocated to TRB contracted providers and individual summary utilization reports of each contracted provider.

We hope these reports provide useful and helpful information as we head into a new cycle of contracts with 35 contracted treatment providers for the 2021-2023 TRB SUD Contracts.

SUBJECT: CLINICAL MONITORING OVERVIEW IN PREPARATION FOR UPCOMING CONTRACTS

Dear Colleagues:

I know it has been a very intensive two-year contract period, especially with COVID and its impact to each of your agency's operations. I appreciate all of your efforts to accommodate ADAD Treatment and Recovery Branch's requests for monitoring as well as for your submission of Corrective Action Plans (CAPs) in response. I am keenly aware of the demands that documentation requires, having served as an agency clinician for a number of years and having reviewers oversee my work. Providing concise, descriptive and clinically accurate information that captures all clients' status and progress in the span of a workday (all the while counseling clients and performing administrative tasks) is a constant balancing act. Yet documentation, while challenging, nevertheless serves a critically important role in providing accountability for services as well as promoting the competence of our field.

My goal is for all of us is to "get better" in this area while looking at ways documentation can be done more efficiently. My approach, for those who have worked with me for years, is always to agree on what has or has not been documented. Once agreement exists, we can then have a discussion regarding the importance of the information and the way it is presented. Lastly, I want to provide a monitoring report which captures the above and provides helpful examples and comments which will assist in the completion of a useful Corrective Action Plan. I will also provide debriefings upon request and strive to make my observations, findings and recommendations occur collaboratively and instructively.

In reviewing your agencies for the past two-year contract period, I have observed some common themes. Some may fit for your agency or some may not. You may find Attachment D-8, "CLINICAL DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS" in RFP 440-21-1 useful. Here they are:

Screening. This is typically completed for Substance Use Disorders (SUDs) but not for Co-Occurring Disorders (CODs, i.e. SUDs and Mental Health Disorders—MHDs) or tobacco use. For example on WITS, I have noted that neither the BH/BI screen nor tobacco screen is often completed. MHDs occur frequently with SUDs, so it is always best practice to screen for CODs. In addition, consistent research on tobacco use, often associated with COD, has harmful effects. So screening for this area, especially as it relates to ASAM 2 (health conditions), is important. Several provider agencies have completed the BH/BI completely and added additional AOD screens like the DAST. Tobacco screening was also completed. In one agency previously, I observed a highly innovative tobacco cessation class that used a smoke breathalyzer. Other agencies have offered smoking cessation materials.

BHA-designated assessments (currently the ASI and ADAD). While the interviewer's name is often listed, the interviewer's credentials aren't (i.e. CSAC and/or a masters degree in behavioral health). In at least one case, it appeared the assessment was completed by an administrative assistant. (Seriously.) For an assessment to have standing, the relevant credential(s) must be listed. If a student completes the ASI or ADAD (which I've sometimes noted), then a credentialed supervisor must countersign. A number of agencies, however, have this one documented well.

The BHA-designated assessment. Often, I find the ASI and ADAD has been "filled in" with information to provide a printout (which is software-generated) but has no narrative summary. In some instances, the narrative summary has literally been left blank. The purpose of the narrative summary is for the clinician to tie in relevant history, clinical observations during admission, highlight assessment data and report on relevant findings in support of diagnoses.

I've noted that some folks are still using DSM-5 and occasionally DSM-IV (no longer in use). HIPAA requires the use of ICD-10-CM. Some narratives have provided extensive service information based on ASAM Dimensions 1-6, while others have often only provided limited information regarding the need for substance abuse treatment and placement, for example, in an outpatient setting. Service recommendations under present contract requirements should be made using all ASAM dimensions. (Note: I'm taking a closer look at this; only relevant ASAM dimensions with medium or high severity may only need to have service recommendations.)

The BHA-designated assessment (again). When I've reviewed the ASI or ADAD, I've found occasionally some severity ratings missing, which makes it difficult to know the level of need in a particular area. Reporting on all severity ratings as well as highlighting the ASI or ADAD severity ratings that are four (4) or higher supports the medium and high risk ratings for ASAM dimensions. A few agencies have developed a really nice "crosswalk" for this and provided well developed and comprehensive evaluations. Ask around!

Updated BHA-designated assessments. These have typically not been completed. The purpose is to measure client progress at six month intervals during the entire episode of care as well as six months afterwards. It is the way to showcase the effectiveness of your program.

The ASAM. In some instances, the ASAM wasn't even completed. Often when the ASAM was completed, each ASAM Dimension Level of Care was the same (e.g. II.1—IOP), even though each Level of Risk might vary from 0-4 or from Low to High (meaning each dimension is not necessarily II.1—IOP). Each Level of Care should co-vary based on each Level of Risk, and the overall placement recommendation should be based on a careful evaluation of the varying Levels of Care and Risk. Comment boxes on WITS provide accompanying clinical justification based on the initial assessment. In addition, WITS also allows for administrative/alternative placements to be made when a clinically recommended ASAM placement level is unavailable or other considerations exist, which sometimes happens. The goal is to get the client connected with service options, even if not clinically optimal.

The initial Health and Wellness Plan (HWP). The assessment should be used as the “springboard” to crosswalk interventions identified in the HWP, with all linked to relevant ASAM dimensions. In some instances, initial or updated HWPs weren’t completed. In other instances when they were, they referred to ASI or ADAD areas rather than ASAM. One or more programs had well developed initial HWPs, which referenced all six ASAM dimensions, with each dimension’s referring to the relevant ASI or ADAD area(s). An excellent template!

The HWP’s ASAM goals and objectives. In some instances goals didn’t align with the data provided. For example, in one instance, a provider noted withdrawal symptoms; in another, use of recent heroin and meth use, but these were not listed on the HWP for ASAM 1. Medical concerns were indicated for one client, but no goal or objectives related to medical evaluation or services were stated under ASAM 2. Some agencies, however, have done a good job indicating goals and objectives related to all ASAM areas, including medical services (ASAM 2) as well as psychiatric services (ASAM 3).

An area that is frequently overlooked—cultural activities. While progress notes related to cultural activities appear frequently, rarely if ever do HWPs reflect the use of cultural activities as an HWP an intervention to meet an ASAM goal and objectives. For example, different cultural activities (e.g. hula, researched locally: <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4177511/>) could be listed under several ASAM areas based on its healthful effects to assist in recovery.

The HWP’s listing of type, frequency and duration of each ASAM activity. Two benefits for our field: 1) Aligns us with health care, which is the umbrella for behavioral health; 2) Allows for addiction recovery activities to be quantifiable and measurable to assist in performance evaluation, so the public and payors see the benefit of addiction treatment. A number of providers have already incorporated this into their health plans, e.g. individual counseling sixty minutes weekly. Others, however, still might state, “Attend groups as required.” (Very general.)

HWP and ASAM Dimension updates. Some providers do this regularly while others do not. An HWP is a living document which summarizes client progress and regular intervals. It serves as a summary of client encounters, documented in progress notes, for a defined period and helps assess client responsiveness and justify level of care or placement change. Much like a Primary Care Provider (PCP) will modify a patient plan, add or adjust medications and make referrals for services based on client progress, an addiction counselor (as all behavioral health professionals are) will need to operate similarly and document accordingly. This puts us on a par with all other service professionals.

HWP and ASAM dimension transition and discharge planning. While I’ve observed a change in encounter notes (e.g. from IOP to OP) for most providers for an episode of care, I’ve not often seen an HWP transition plan which provides the basis for the transition from one modality to another. Even for transition from OP to Continuing Care (CC), a transition HWP is needed to provide the justification for transition. A transition HWP includes a service summary, a summary of overall client responsiveness to the modality of care and service recommendations for the next modality (be it a higher or lower level). A discharge summary has the added benefit of listing helpful supports even after the client no longer utilizes formal addiction recovery services.

Progress notes. Often I've observed these in narrative form (which seems time consuming and less focused); frequently I've seen formatted (e.g. DAP--Data, Assessment, Plan) notes, which is preferred. A format is useful because it concisely conveys information. By listing the ASAM dimension(s) (one or two) from the HWP at the beginning of the note, it assists the counselor in helping him/her focus on relevant HWP areas. To the degree the HWP specifies each activity/intervention for the relevant ASAM Dimension(s), it makes for an easier "crosswalk" and "alignment" from the progress notes to the initial HWP and later on for HWP Updates, Transitions and Discharges.

Care Coordination. Care Coordination (CC) is a focal point/hub of all client services. It connects all clients to SUD and COD behavioral health services as well as health, recovery support and judicial/criminal justice services, to name a few. On occasions I have seen care coordination documented but have not as of yet seen care coordination in HWPs. Addiction counselors have been doing care coordination for years, often without crediting themselves for it (i.e. "just part of the job") or documenting/billing for it. Remember, CC is a MAJOR activity, and our field deserves credit for it! It is an activity that can fit with each ASAM dimension, depending on the service required for linkage.

Disaster Response State (DRS) Grant (September 30, 2020 – September 29, 2022)

Eligibility Requirement: Funds may be used to provide services to individuals that were impacted by a natural disaster

Encumbered: Funds that are allocated and obligated to a community provider for expenditure for service provision under a purchase of services contractual agreement.

Unencumbered: Funds that are de-obligated or decreased from the original encumbrance to a contracted provider based on utilization review and other factors indicating that the contracted provider is unable to expend those funds before they expire/lapse.

Lapsed: Funds that were encumbered to a provider through a contract and were not spent before the expiration of the funding period. Generally, both federal and state funds must be spent during a particular time period or they “lapse” back to the fund from which they are appropriated and are not available to the ADAD for further expenditure.

Expended: Funds that were encumbered to a provider through a contract and purchase order and fully spent as agreed per the contract. The goal of the ADAD is to assure that all appropriated state and federal funds encumbered under purchase of service agreements with community providers are expended.

Carryover: Funds that are encumbered to a provider through a contract and purchase order that were not spent down in the first year of their contract but where the timeframe for the fund appropriation has not expired and are able to be carried over to the next contract year.

*(*note - these totals are included in the summary totals because they represent funds that were encumbered but not expended during the period for which they were encumbered for use – carryover funds have additional administrative limitations and are considered when determining NTE for the next contract year. For example, a provider’s second contract year may be reduced by the amount of carryover from the first contract year.)*

NTE (not to exceed) Amount: The maximum expenditure ceiling designated to each provider for the contract period. This amount is based on total funds available to the ADAD for purchase of services when contracts are awarded. The NTE amount is a cost containment mechanism to assure that the ADAD does not encumber, obligate, or is billed more funds for contracted services than are available in its overall budget. The NTE amount does not necessarily guarantee any provider will have access to the full amount designated for the contract period. NTE amounts can change based on several factors including availability of general and federal funds, a provider's utilization and capacity to expend funds encumbered, and the ADAD's evaluation of need across the continuum of care. For this reason, total NTE amounts reflected at the end of the contract period may be either less than or greater than total amounts versus the beginning of the contract period.

The goal of the ADAD is to assure that all appropriated state and federal funds encumbered under purchase of service agreements with community providers are expended.
